Module Title	Lets Make a Habit Out of it!	Possibilities are Limitless!	In the Market for a Future	Using Skills Beyond 9th Grade
Description	We will learn strategies and habits that students can use to effectively manage their time. Students will use the skills to set goals and check in on those goals.	Students will start exploring possible career options that are available to them. We will start with an interest survey, then researching some careers associated to the results.	This unit will build upon the prior units, with the background of effective habits and skills, and what their intended careers look for, students will look into college options. While looking at future schooling options, students will reflect on their high school career so far and reflect on their progress.	All the units culminate when students present their completed portfolio as part of a practice interview. The completed portfolio provides students with a valuable "real world" tool to utilize in their future college and career pursuits
